The game is quite beautiful, but the one map is all there is. The mechanics are simplistic, but functional, just don't expect a huge challenge. You probably won't get more than an hour out of it, but then again that is alright for the asking price. Worth a shot.. <https://youtu.be/XXmetnL5fYM> Wood collecting simulator. Not even joking here. That is the aim of the game. Run around collecting enough wood, to fill a box and keep your campfire going. If you fail to do either, or you freeze to death from being out collecting wood for too long then it is game over. Once you figure out the balance needed to keep the fire going (hint add small amounts) and if you have filled the box by nightfall then you win. And then you get to do it over and over again. On a small map. Basically boring and repetitive busy work, with at least some pretty decent graphics and an okay sound track.. Wood collecting simulator. Not even joking here. Later about an hour in I realized, well theres nothing else to do. 8/10 Graphics 3/10 Gameplay 6/10 Mechanics Overall this is game what you pay for, but I still have to not recommend it as it is a colossal waste of time.. A nice game for this price. Graphics - 7/10 Gameplay is simple but exciting. So that's pretty good timekiller.
